The Center for Fine Art Photography presents its newest exhibition, Mind's Eye. This exhibition is on display in the Center's gallery from May 29 – June 27, 2009. Forty photographers representing, Austria, France, Sweden, United Kingdom and the United States are exhibiting their work in the Center's gallery.

Mind's Eye explores the many realities that we document daily. Juror, Christopher Rauschenberg, co-founder of Photolucida and Blue Sky Gallery, stated "...I have a special love for work where the subjects were normal and everyday but where the way of looking at those subjects was strange and interesting... rather than just giving me a nice image to look at, it teaches me a new way to be thrilled by the world around me."

Founded in 2004 to promote the art of photography through exhibitions and education, the Center is a nonprofit organization supported by donations, grants and memberships. The Center for Fine Art Photography currently has more than 1,300 members representing 33 countries worldwide. Although its headquarters and gallery are in Fort Collins, Colorado, an on-line gallery gives photographers and photography enthusiasts from all over the globe an opportunity to engage with the Center. For more information about the Center, including information on workshops or forums, please see the website at www.c4fap.org or call 970-224-1010.
